IEEE INDIN 2023: Call for Tutorial Proposals

The organizing committee of the IEEE INDIN 2023 invites proposals for tutorials on technical areas of interest for the IEEE INDIN community. The tutorials offered by field experts are to cover technical topics that are of utmost use for academia, practicing engineers, and researchers, and are expected to have direct relevance for the needs of the industry. We encourage tutorials to be supported by practical implementations and demonstrations, wherever possible.

The proposers are sought to be among leading experts in the selected field of research and to provide an engaging, interactive platform for active participation from the audience, with a strong preference to hands-on tutorials.

While the IEEE INDIN 2023 organizing committee would particularly encourage tutorial topics related to the IEEE INDIN 2023 tracks and conference themes, tutorials in emerging topics also of relevance for Industrial Informatics are also welcomed.

Required Proposal Information

Each proposal must be no longer than 6 pages (not including presentation material) and includes the following information:

- Title: A short descriptive title.
- Duration: half day (3 hours) or full day (6 hours).
- Presenters: Names, affiliation, contact information (email and mailing address), and short bio for each presenter.
- Description: A description of the tutorial topic, providing a sense of both the scope and depth of the tutorial, along with a tutorial outline.
- Expected audience: Include the background of audience and expected number of attendees.
- Previous editions: If the tutorial was given before, describe when and where it was given, and if and how it will be modified for IEEE INDIN 2023. Please provide the previous tutorial presentation.
